It is late.

It is time for bed.

It is time to go to bed.

Pam is funny.

Do not play, Pam.

It is time to go to bed.

Come Pam.

It is time.

It is time to wash.

Good, Pam.

You can help.

Find the top.

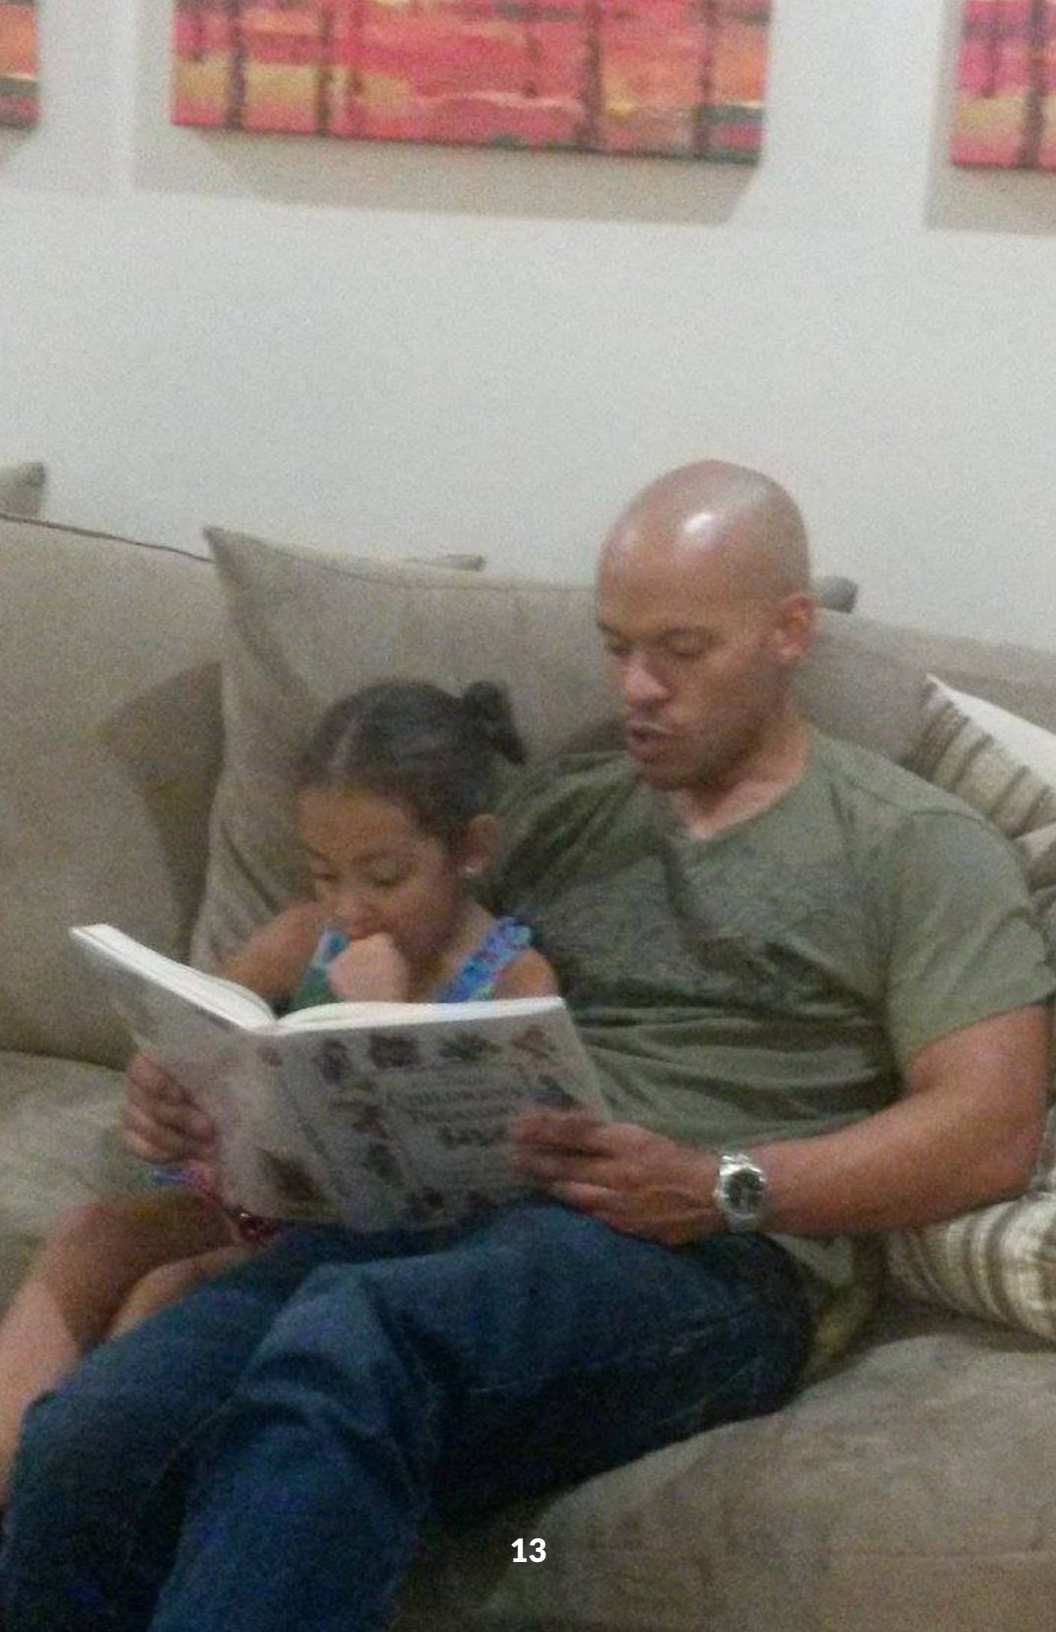

It is time.

It is time to read.

It is good to read.

Good Pam.

Jump in bed.

You are good.

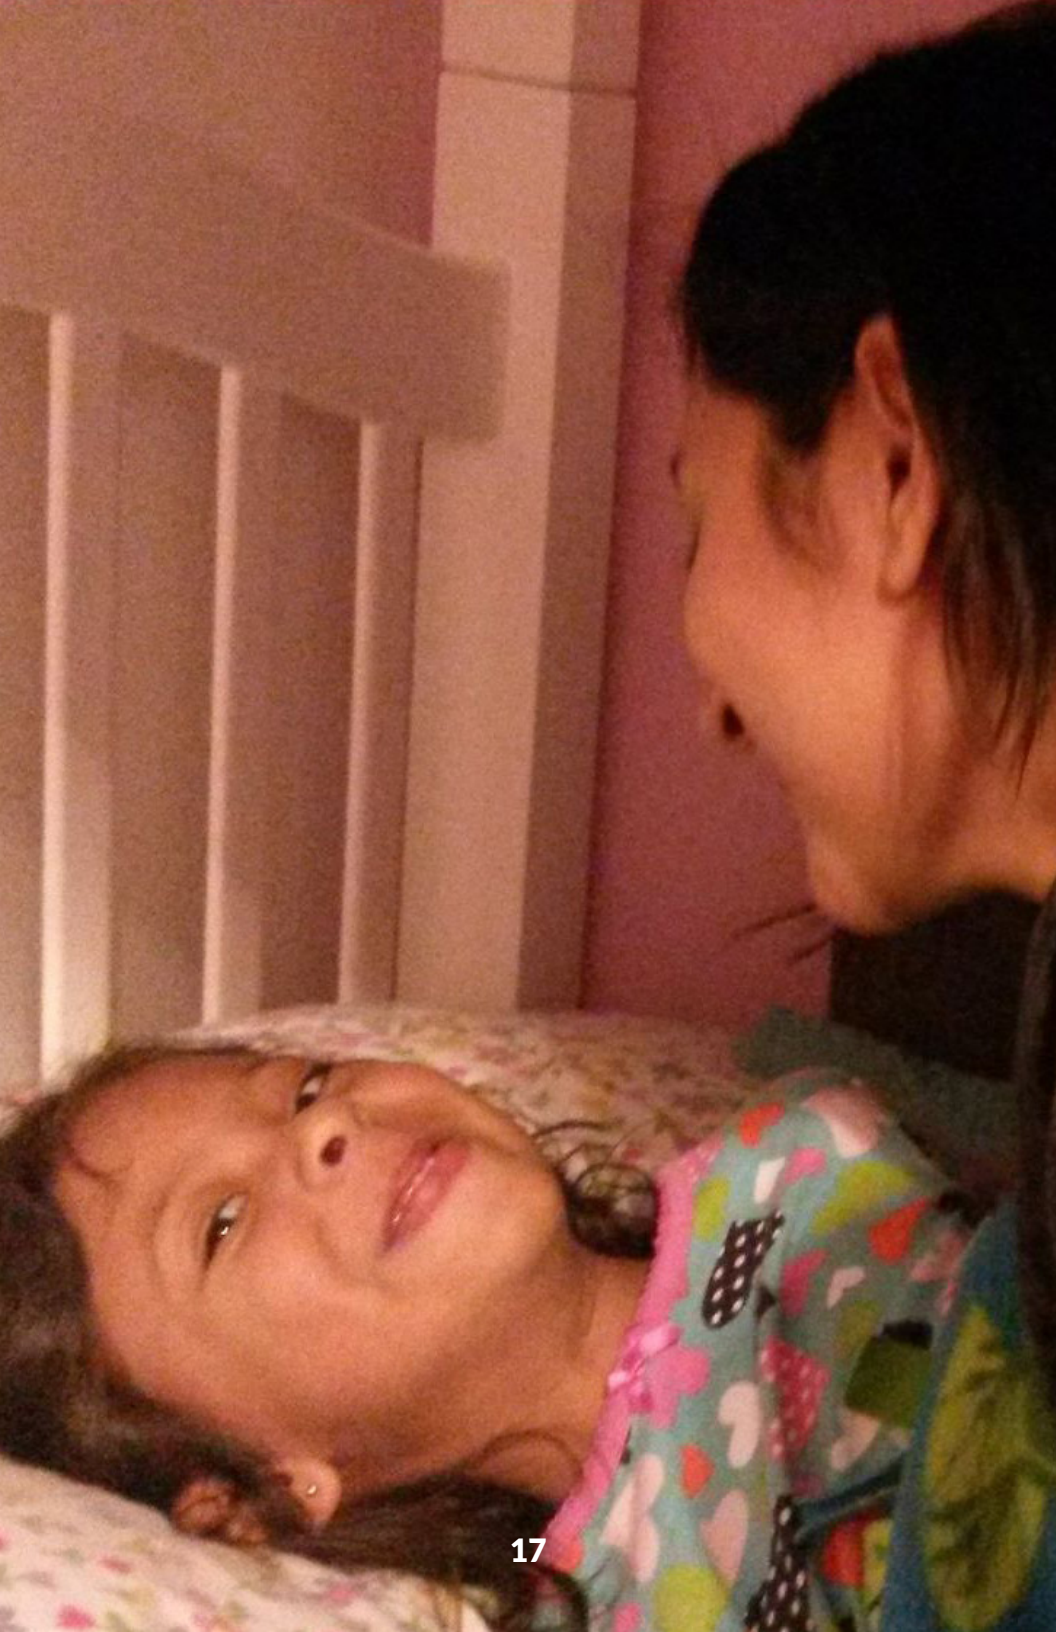

It is time.

It is time to go to sleep. You are good.

I love you, Pam.

I love you, Mom.

Remembering

*The parent reads these questions to the child.
Together they review the pictures and text to find the answers if the child cannot recall them.*

- 1. What is Pam getting ready for?
- 2. Who helps Pam get ready?
- 3. Name three things Pam does to get ready for bed.
- 4. What does Mom say when she turns off the lights?

Notes

The PSP series also contains four pages of suggestions for parents who are reading with their child. The shared reading experience is important to helping your child develop an appreciation for text and the power it holds to lay the world at his/her feet.
